Gene Kaufman D.C.

last November and traveled to the beautiful village of Dali in the Yunnan Province of China, bordering Tibet. He had the opportunity to study Kung Fu intensively with a revered Bagwa master, and to study the Chinese art of bodywork called Tui Na with a wonderful doctor of Chinese medicine.

Becoming a Doctor of Chiropractic was a natural extension of Dr. Kaufman's passion for Kung Fu because the Martial Arts teach: "If you injure another person you must also know to heal them." The Martial Arts also teach a reverence for a healthy body, mind and spirit, something Dr. Kaufman brings to his practice and to his patients.

Combined with gentle chiropractic adjustments, Tui Na body work techniques are very effective for treating all types of muscular skeletal problems. Dr. Kaufman is also licensed to perform a deep tissue therapy called Neuromuscular Re-education. Dr. Kaufman was personally trained in this technique by Dr. Gary Glum, who pioneered it, and who is well known for treating the top echelon of professional athletes with Neuromuscular Re-education and Chiropractic care.

Dr. Kaufman still enjoys training and studying Kung Fu as much today as the day he began. He also enjoys the healing art of chiropractic more than ever. He has realized through his own personal training how beneficial chiropractic care has been for him by improving athletic performance, promoting the rapid healing of injuries as well as an maintaining an overall sense of energetic well being. His goal is to help his patients reach their optimum physical, mental and spiritual health through chiropractic treatments, nutrition, specific exercise and stretch programs and life style changes. If you are having pain, soreness or stiffness in the neck, mid or lower back, shoulders, arms, wrists, hands, ankles, hips, knees, ankles, feet; or are having headaches, nerve problems (sciatica, carpal tunnel, numbness in extremities), low energy, fibromyalgia; if you've been involved in automobile or work accidents – or maybe you're just stressed out and want to learn self relaxation techniques, Dr. Kaufman can help you.

He is now in practice at Toluca Lake Chiropractic, 10112 Riverside Drive, Toluca Lake

Priddis Music to Join Disc On Demand!

Disc on Demand is thrilled to announce that Priddis is about to join forces and add their complete line of music to the existing library! Disc On Demand already has an extensive library carrying Music Maestro, Multi Karaoke and Easy Karaoke; this will add thousands of new songs for the user.

Priddis Music produces every genre, and boasts a large repertoire of Faith, Oldies, their special Jazz Combo series, Country, Broadway and the latest Pop hits. With these newest titles, even the most discerning listener will marvel at the cornucopia of choices!

To date, the response to this newest innovation has been superb. Customers are enjoying the ability to now create their own customized CDG's for both personal and professional use. People are spending anywhere from 15 minutes to a couple of hours at the listening station making their selections of music to have burned. Depending on your needs, leave yourself at least a half an hour if you're trying it for the first time.

Discs will hold up to 74 minutes of music (or about 20 songs) including the on-screen lyrics. There is a 5 song minimum; so when you get that list of your favorites together, come on in and burn, baby burn!!

Disc on Demand is available exclusively at the Singing Store located at 16851 Victory Blvd, Lake Balboa, Ca. 91406 in the San Fernando Valley. The service will also be available soon via mail-order through their website at www.singing.com.

M2 Studio Salon is a Dream Come True...

By: Denise Ames

There is no longer any reason to travel over the hill for the best hair you've ever had!

M2 Studio Salon, nestled in the middle of Burbank's media district, specializes in everything from cuts and styling to color, extensions and makeup. The salon caters to a celebrity clientele as well as walk-ins and the general public and is co-owned by siblings Debra Honles and Valerie Sullivan.

It all started when Sullivan grew weary of her sister protesting about working for somebody else (at other salons). Sullivan, "I knew my sister was talented enough to go it on her own and I saw no reason why she shouldn't do it, but she wouldn't do it alone so she asked me to come with her. I broke down and said yes!" They combined Honles' 12 years of experience with hair (she is American Board Certified) with Sullivan's extensive years of custommer service in the restaurant and accounting industries. The sisters were able to round up previous clientele to support and invest in their dream shop. The M2 Studio Salon opened its doors last September. Honles, "Our salon is empowering to its clients as well as the staff through its motivation and inspiration. It makes people feel really good about themselves and grants them a great environment to do it in." Sullivan adds, "We want our salon to be the 'go to' place, making it unnecessary to travel all the way to Beverly Hills because we have the same knowledge and experience. We accomplish this in an extremely comfortable, relaxing and convenient location." The majority of their growing clientele comes from the studio exposure they receive through word of mouth from clients in the industry though the staff prides themselves on treating every client like a celebrity. Honles, "I had an actor (from the hit show "CSI") come in the other day that decided to leave his Beverly Hills salon because he wasn't being treated with the same respect as he is here. Customer service and satisfaction is a requirement at M2 Studio."

The salon is also an official carrier of high end product lines including Rene Furterer, Redken and Graham Webb's Halo and Nolita making the goods within arms reach of its clientele. Plans for the future entail a luxurious spa featuring facial treatments, a designated quiet area, manicures and pedicures by summertime. The girls also plan on opening other salon locations in the Los Angeles area.
